

CHILDREN RUNNING BAREFOOTED.

MRS. KERBISH AND HER LITTLE ONES DESERTED, HUNGRY, EVICTED AND UNCLOTHED—SAD CASE OF DESTITUTION.

Lena Kerbish, aged twenty-eight, deserted by her husband, dispossessed from her furnished room on the top floor of No. 20 Allen-st., and without food for herself and three small children for two days, started for the Eldridge-st. station in desperation about 10 o'clock Tuesday night. Two of the children, one six months old and the other eighteen months old, she carried in her arms. The other child, a boy, three years of age, had run along the street until he met another child, who had been running without parents. At the station they were furnished with food, which they ate ravenously.

The woman's husband, a piano-player, deserted her four weeks ago, she says, leaving her without money, food or proper clothing, and the rest of the family came to the station yesterday morning. After another was pawned, and then the landlady demanded the rent. Late Tuesday night they were turned out of the house. Then Mrs. Kerbish turned to the police station.

Two policemen were sent to Mrs. Kerbish's room, from whom Mrs. Kerbish related her story, and after much coaxing she consented to let the family come back to the station. Captain Kirschner, who is very-handed, however, for Captain Kirschner headed a subscription list, and gave her enough to keep her a day or two. Rather than have her committed to the Randall's Island Hospital, however, took the family to his home. An agent of the Gerry Society is searching for the woman's husband, who, she says, makes plenty of money, but spends it on others.

INVESTIGATIONS SUSPENDED.

Commissioner of Accounts Seth Sprague Terry announced yesterday that investigations into the Building and Dock Departments would not be continued further, as he believed both departments had been thorougly and enough corruption exposed. Mr. Terry now intends to take a recess until May 1, when he will probe the Park and Public Works departments.
